Historical Note

Brooklyn College’s long history of sports started before the college was established as an independent institution. “In September 1926, the Brooklyn branch of Hunter College was established, with basketball, hockey, and swimming as the athletic activities. Zealous freshmen travelled to the Main Building [on 68th street] to reap the benefits of a practice skirmish with upper classmen” (1932 Brooklyn College yearbook). Early records show basketball was started in 1927 with Coach Pincus Match, football was started in 1927 with Coach Lou Oshins, varsity baseball in 1928 with Coach Pincus Match, and tennis was established in 1928 with Coach Elton Gustafson. These early sports set the foundation for a long lasting tradition of athletic competition in Brooklyn College.

The biggest impediment that the Brooklyn Branch faced in its early years was lack of an established athletic field and gymnasium. The Brooklyn Branch’s sole facilities were in the college’s Court Street gymnasium which was ill equipped to satisfy the athletic demands of the students. In turn, the athletic teams used different fields and gymnasiums in different parts of Brooklyn and even Manhattan to practice and compete with other colleges. The football team made their home field at Diamond 1 Prospect Park Parade Grounds and Lewisohn Stadium at CCNY, basketball was played in the Girl’s Industrial High School and the Willoughby Street Gymnasium, swimmers went to the Metropolitan Pool, and fencers competed in the college’s Court Street gymnasium. The sports teams competed in different fields until the creation of a new athletic field in 1937 at Brooklyn College’s current location at 2900 Bedford Avenue.

By 1930, the Brooklyn branch of Hunter College became Brooklyn College and the Athletic Department was able to grow and prosper in its early years despite lack of its own facilities. Varsity baseball held winning annual records from 1932-1934 (10-4) (6-4) (11-4); the basketball team won from 1932-1937 (10-5) (6-6) (14-7) (18-9) (10-8); the soccer team’s winning annual records were from 1934-1936 (5-0) (5-0) (6-0); and the tennis team had outstanding winnings from 1932-1939 (5-0) (9-1) (5-4) (4-2) (9-2) (6-5) (9-2).

Throughout the years, Brooklyn College sports teams have won numerous games and received many awards in recognition of their outstanding achievements. Brooklyn College Women’s Fencing team won the National Intercollegiate Women’s Fencing Association (NIWFA) championship in 1934, 1941, 1942 & 1953; the swim team won the CUNY Championships from 1972-77 and MET championships 1941, 1972, 1974, & 1977; Brooklyn College track and field star Yolanda Gibson Day won the gold at the Division III NCAA in track and field in 1982, won the CUNY Cross Country Championship in 1980 & 1981 and was part of the track team that won CUNY title for 1979, 1980, and 1981; the football team went to the Metropolitan Conference Division 3 in 1976; and in 1984 the soccer team went to Nepal beating India, China, and the national team of Nepal.

The overall feats of the Brooklyn College sports teams led to the creation of an Athletic Hall of Fame in 1978 to showcase the athletes and coaches who went above and beyond in athletic competition and coaching. Some notable Hall of Famers include famous screenplay writer Irwin Shaw, New York Giants coach Allie Sherman, and Olympic fencer Denise O’Connor. The original Brooklyn College Athletic Wall of Fame opened in Roosevelt Hall in 1991 depicting photographs of Hall of Famers. In 2013, a new Wall of Fame was established in the West Quad Building showcasing plaques of each Hall of Famer.

Brooklyn College Athletics faced a number of obstacles during the early 1990s. Although Title IX was passed in 1972 requiring “gender equity for boys and girls in every educational program that receives federal funding,” the association was charged with not providing equal pay for female coaches and not offering enough women’s sports in the college. Many lawsuits and complaints were issued to the athletics department and shortly thereafter, the Brooklyn College Athletics Department was no longer able to fund the sports program due to massive budget cuts. This led to a full collapse of the athletics department and sports teams in Brooklyn College by 1992. In 1994, the athletics department revamped its program with equal number of sports for women and men and athletics was able to grow and prosper again.
Scope and Content Note

Brooklyn College Athletics Department records contains photographs, video/audiocassette tapes, programs, administrative records, publications, newspaper clippings, sports records, and ephemera from 1927-2010. The majority of the collection contains annual sports records, records of sports competitions, and administrative records. The collection also includes rich visual materials including four boxes of athletic photographs from the 1930s-1990s, videos of Brooklyn College baseball games and Hall of Fame ceremonies, and many modern programs of sports competitions.

Series Descriptions

Sub-Group I: Multimedia, 1932-2000

This series contains photographs, negatives, and slides depicting Brooklyn College sports activities, team group photographs, athlete headshots, athletic events, and athletic facilities from the 1930s through 2000s with the bulk of materials from the 1950s-1960s. The negatives are mostly undated and contain various sports teams group photos, awards ceremonies, athletes posing, and sports events. The slides within this series are a part of a slideshow from Brooklyn College Athletic Hall of Fame 1985 and 1986. Also within this folder is a slide inventory listing. The photographs are organized by general athletic photographs including events and facilities and then separated by gender and alphabetically by sport. They are then placed chronologically in each category with undated photos in the beginning of each category. Also contained under the men’s photographs is a CD ROM with men’s sports teams in TIF format containing 14 images of Brooklyn College sports from 1945, 1947-1949.

Women’s sports photographs include archery, baseball, basketball, cheerleading, dance, fencing, field hockey, swimming, tennis, and volleyball. The men’s sports photographs include baseball, basketball, cross country, fencing, football, golf, rifle team, soccer, swimming tennis, and wrestling. Many of the photographs were taken by photographers George Bing and Harold Swahn. The majority of photographs are team photographs, but there are many action photographs depicting the ferocity of the Brooklyn College athletic teams in competition. This series also provides a fascinating look at the history of Brooklyn College athletics through photographs of sports teams such as women’s archery and the men’s rifle team that are no longer available at Brooklyn College.

*Note: Other collections that contain Brooklyn College sports photographs are:
#2010-012 The photographs of BC Athletic Wall of Fame (contains photographs from the original Brooklyn College Athletic Wall of Fame in Roosevelt Hall)
#1993-006 Brooklyn College Photograph Collection (contains many folders of Brooklyn College sports photographs)

This series contains audio and audiovisual pertaining to the Brooklyn College Athletic Department. The series is organized by type of medium and then chronologically with undated materials first.

The audiovisual materials consist of VHS tapes and two videos entitled “Brooklyn College Athletic Alumni Hall of Fame Dinner 10/29/1988” and “Brooklyn College 30 Second Spot on Sony Videocassette” which are on Fuji U-Matic and a Sony videocassette, both formats designed specifically for broadcasting.
The videocassettes highlight the history of Brooklyn College Athletics Department and the accomplishments of Brooklyn College athletes. The videocassette tapes include a five minute edit of a 1950s Brooklyn College baseball game vs. John Marshall College with commentary, former Brooklyn College president Hess proclaiming his admiration for the Brooklyn College Athletics Department and its accomplishments in “Brooklyn College Development: Thanks Brooklyn College,” the opening of the original Brooklyn College Athletics Department Wall of Fame in Roosevelt Hall (1991) with the reactions of the original Hall of Famers, and Brooklyn College Athletic Alumni Hall of Fame Dinner videotapes from 1988-1991.

The audiocassette tapes include WBB 12/4 Yeshiva and Brooklyn College vs. College of Staten Island 1/24/96.

Subgroup II: Programs, 1960s-2000s

This series contains programs from different Brooklyn College sports games and events ranging from the 1960s-2000s. There are three categories of programs including all sports brochures, sports programs which are organized alphabetically by name of sport, and then athletic events. Each succinct category is organized chronologically.

This series includes publications and newspaper clippings involving Brooklyn College sports teams and the athletics department in general and they are organized chronologically. The newspaper clippings are separated into newspaper print clippings and photocopies of clippings. Each succinct category is organized chronologically with undated materials in the beginning of each category.

The clippings show the history of the Brooklyn College sports teams and controversies that occurred in its recent history. Some articles discuss the contention in the Athletics Department for not adhering to the equal rights clauses in Title IX in the 1990s giving equal pay for female coaches and equal opportunities for female athletes in Brooklyn College. Other clippings contain information about the Brooklyn College Athletics Department’s loss of funding in the mid-1990s leading to a full collapse of the Athletics programs and sports teams. The majority of articles discuss the various wins and losses from Brooklyn College sports teams with a number of articles taken from Brooklyn College’s newspaper The Kingsman.

Included in this series are a photocopy booklet of a “Brooklyn College Football 1948 Season (7-2-0) Scrapbook” with clippings about their 1948 season and a scrapbook of athletics team’s wins and losses from 1937. They are organized chronologically and both items are in the oversized box. The contents of this series are very fragile and must be handled with care.

Subgroup IV: Athletic Department Administrative Records, 1950, 1966-2006

This series contains a Student-Athletics manual, a handbook for coaches (draft) 1973-1974, summary of NCAA regulations and guidelines, and Students’ Athletic Interests Spring 1992. They are organized chronologically. The Student-Athletics manual provides information about the athletics program, intercollegiate competition, and instructions about National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Regulations. The Students’ Athletic Interests Spring 1992 is a report that “summarizes the results of a survey of Brooklyn College students’ athletics interests initiated as a result of a Title IX compliance agreement between Brooklyn College and the United States Department of Education Office for Civil Rights entered into on February 14, 1992.” The report discusses demographic data, questionnaire responses, specific sports choices for male and female athletes, and an introduction discussing the end of the Brooklyn College athletics due to massive budget cuts in CUNY. The other documents in this series are guidelines that adhere to NCAA regulations for coaches and students.

This series contains Brooklyn College’s Student Athletic Advisory Committee’s manual and annual reports from 2000-2006 and the documents are arranged chronologically. The overall mission of SAAC is to “enhance the total student-athlete experience by promoting opportunity, protecting student-athlete’s well-being and fostering a positive student-athlete image.” The committee acts as an intermediary between the student athletes and the athletics administration to exchange ideas and concerns regarding a wide range of topics including the acquisition of new uniforms to concerns about the safety of athletic facilities. Annual reports from SAAC provide information regarding SAAC's mission, member listings, minutes, correspondence, and surveys.

This series contains the Brooklyn College Athletic Department’s correspondence and other memoranda from 1950-1995. In order to keep with the athletic department’s original order, the correspondence was organized roughly by date range and contains the general subject matter on the folder title. When there is no subject matter, the correspondence is filed under a general athletics department correspondence.

There are pieces of correspondence that are specifically about sports teams, concerning coaches, or about a particular topic relating to administration. Included in this series are many letters from the early 1990s from people outraged at the Brooklyn College athletics department for not giving equal opportunities to female coaches and athletes. The Rifle Team file contains correspondence from rifle team coach Daniel Gavrin concerned with the security of the rifle range after an attempted forced entry from five students.

This series contains records regarding the Brooklyn College Hall of Fame and Annual Athletic Awards. The Athletic Awards was designed to award athletes for their accomplishments during the school year in the early years of Brooklyn College. In 1978, an Athletic Hall of Fame was created to showcase exceptional Brooklyn College athletes and coaches who went above and beyond in athletic competition and coaching during their time at Brooklyn College and onto their professional athletic careers. Some notable Hall of Famers include famous screenplay writer Irwin Shaw, New York Giants coach Allie Sherman, and Olympic fencer Denise O’Connor. The establishment of a Wall of Fame was created in Roosevelt Hall to showcase photographs of the Hall of Famers.

This series is separated by Hall of Fame and the Annual Athletic Awards and organized chronologically. Also included in this series are biographical files compiled about specific Hall of Famers. The Hall of Fame and Annual Athletic Awards files mostly contain correspondence, seating listings, invoices, and RSVPs; whereas the Hall of Famer biographical files contain information about their athletic career, awards, newspaper clippings, and even a piece from their scrapbooks.

*Note: Other collections that are closely related to the Hall of Fame are:
#2010-012 The photographs of BC Athletic Wall of Fame (contains photographs from the original Brooklyn College Athletic Wall of Fame in Roosevelt Hall)
#2006-007 The papers of Don Landolphi (Brooklyn College baseball coach and Brooklyn College Hall of Famer)

This series contains the records pertaining to the construction of the Brooklyn College track in 1979 including official correspondence, contracts, proposals, news releases, and rough sketches of the track.

This series contains materials relating to the financial records of the athletic department including annual budgets, yearly plans, fundraising, donor relations, and scholarship information. This series is organized chronologically.
Sub-Group V: Athletic Department Sports Records, 1927-1990s

This series contains Brooklyn College sports records from 1927-1990s including annual records, individual game reports, box scores, record relations with other colleges, season outlooks, team cumulations, and rosters. They are categorized alphabetically by sport and then chronologically. All sports records are placed in the beginning of this series and contain a brief listing of their wins losses for the mentioned time periods.

Sub-Group VI: Ephemera, 1955-2010

This series contains various pieces of ephemera from the athletics department including a Bulldogs CUNYAC 2010 Champs baseball cap, key chains, poster schedules, schedule cards from 1955-2009, a ticket stub from a 1977 Brooklyn College football game, award certificates and pamphlets.
